

PEATC is pleased to announce a two-part webinar series on The Hidden Curriculum, presented by author and educator Dr. Brenda Smith Myles.

The Hidden Curriculum

May 11, 2022 | 6:30 PM

The hidden curriculum is made up of important information that everyone is expected to have learned and know how to use. If you don't know this information, it could impact your ability to make friends, get and keep a job, be safe, and have a high quality of life. Often individuals with disabilities may not pick up on unspoken rules, slang, body language, and social cues that are involved with these types of lessons. Join us to hear practical tips for teaching hidden social needs to children and adults and the importance of making these a part of everyday life.

REGISTER HERE: <https://bit.ly/3OpdfI4>

Brenda Smith Myles Ph. D., formerly, a professor in the Department of Special Education at the University of Kansas, has given over 3000 presentations worldwide and written more than 300 articles and books on ASD. She served as the editor of the journal "Intervention in School and Clinic" and has been a member of the editorial board of several journals. She also has collaborated with the three organizations who identified evidenced based practices in autism. In the latest survey conducted by the University of Texas, she was acknowledged as the second most productive applied researcher in ASD in the world.